

Core Knowledge

- A palaeontologist is someone who studies fossils.
- A fossil is part of a living thing that died and has been saved in stone.
- Dinosaurs lived millions of years ago.
- Dinosaurs are extinct.
- Extinct means a group of animals no longer exist.
- Herbivore dinosaurs ate only plants.
- Carnivore dinosaurs ate other animals and dinosaurs.
- Carnivore dinosaurs had sharp teeth to eat meat.

Stomp & Roar

Domain Themes

- Dinosaur eggs
- Dinosaur names
- Dinosaur habitats
- Palaeontologist
- Fossils
- Volcanoes

Home Learning

- Think of a dinosaur and describe it to someone in your family. They have to guess which dinosaur you are!
- Create your own dinosaur. Draw a picture and think of an interesting name for it!

Key Vocabulary

- | | | |
|---------------|-------------------|-------------------|
| • Dinosaur | • Allosaurus | • T-Rex |
| • Extinct | • Predator | • Velociraptors |
| • Fossil | • Triassic period | • Skeleton |
| • Prehistoric | • Prey | • Predict |
| • Herbivore | • Carnivore | • Cast |
| • Excavate | • Warm-blooded | • Palaeontologist |
| • Omnivore | • Spinosaurus | • Stomp |
| • Iguanodon | • Stegosaurus | • Roar |
| • Diplodocus | • Triceratops | |

Core Knowledge

- Herbivore dinosaurs like the Diplodocus lived in the forest and liked to eat the leaves from trees and plants.
- Omnivore dinosaurs ate a mixture of plants and animals.
- The Tyrannosaurus-rex was one of the biggest meat eaters that ever walked the Earth.
- Diplodocus was one of the longest dinosaurs ever found.
- Triceratops had a huge head with three large horns.