

Core Knowledge

- Fairy tales are stories that feature members of a royal family such as princes, princesses, kings, and queens; characters with special powers or magic; and/or magical transformations.
- Many things that happen in fairy tales are fantasy and cannot happen in real life, they are fiction.
- An emperor is the male ruler of a group of nations called an empire.
- Tall tales are a type of folktale. Share that tall tales, like other folktales, were first told orally many, many years ago and were later written down.

Tall Tales and Fairy Tales

Domain Themes

- The Emperor's New Clothes
- Beauty and the Beast
- The Magic Fish
- The Elves and the Shoemaker
- The Hare and the Tortoise
- The Story of Geert
- The Fisherman and his Wife

Home Learning

- Try to create your own fairytale using the template below:

Who, what, when, where and how will your story happen?

- Create your own fairytale characters using different materials e.g. paper, card, material, paint, lollipop sticks.

Key Vocabulary

- Charming
- Displeases
- Enchanted
- Hesitated
- Might
- Curious
- Ignorant
- Inspect
- Intelligent
- Astonished
- Passengers
- Fearsome
- Fortune
- Merchant
- Constant
- Despite
- Determined
- Sorrowful
- Admiration
- Colossal
- Frontier
- Legendary
- Mounted
- Inseparable
- Energy
- Persuaded
- Relaxed
- Tame
- Challenge
- Complete
- Solution
- Steam
- Pride

Core Knowledge

- Frontier can be a boundary, or the edge, of a country or land.
- The word frontier can also describe the unexplored areas of a country or place.
- Tall tale characters perform amazing deeds; tall tales have a great deal of exaggeration, which is part of what makes them humorous; and the characters in a tall tale are always larger than life.
- Both fairytales and tall tales require a beginning, middle and ending.
- The Emperor's New Clothes was written by Hans Christian Andersen.